Who is in Control of your WLB?

A former Nurse turned into a franchise owner, Linda Kenyon is excited about her future building a business of her own with Maid2Clean.

Watching the growth of the Maid2Clean franchise network from her position as a nurse was the trigger that encouraged Linda Kenyon to make the transition to Maid2Clean franchise owner. She always had a desire to build a successful business of her own. She purchased the North Manchester Territory and has made such a success of her business that she acquired the Wakefield Territory also.

"It was the best thing I ever did" says Linda. "I was impressed with the simplicity and solidity of the system."

Maid2Clean is an introductory agency that helps cleaners looking for work hook up with householders looking for cleaners. "Maid2Clean is a turnkey operation," continues Linda. "All you need is a good attitude and ability to follow the proven system alongside a car, home office, PC and telephone.

The Maid2Clean business model involves no cleaning by the Franchise Owner and a number of core services to clients:

- a) Advertising for cleaners
- b) Interviewing cleaners

- c) Vetting cleaners in their own home
- d) Placement of cleaner with client
- e) Insuring cleaners against damage caused
- f) Replacing cleaners if they are sick, unsatisfactory or go on holiday.

Householders can choose from regular weekly cleans to one off blitz cleans. have a wide variety of domestic cleaning services to choose from including one-off blitz cleans, laundry help, linen changing, house minding, standard house cleans, waiting in for deliveries.

"I am really excited about being in control of my future with Maid2Clean. I will develop the business to the point where I have a willable asset in addition to a considerable residual income, while working fewer hours a week than I did as a Nurse.

This means I will be able to see more of my granddaughter and time to visit my holiday home abroad.
